Ordination celebration for Taylor Overbey

Taylor, Youla & Elias

Dear Friends and family,

God bless you, and many thanks to you for coming to take part in this event today. I very much appreciate your being here.

I have been asked to share some of the vision that God has put in my heart for spreading His Word.

In a few words, I want to keep doing what I have been doing, but more of it.

We are still asking God to send us more laborers to help with the harvest, and we want to build the home fellowship, and have many branches off from it.

I have also received more requests to teach the seminar "Power from on High," and I am looking forward to more invitations.

Youla has been working on her Master's degree in counselling, and I know she wants to help bring deliverance to God's people in that way. That fits in nicely with the vision we have for a "Healing and Arts Center."

The concept is that those who need healing—mentally, physically, or spiritually would have a place to come where, if they need to saturate themselves in the Word of God, they could have a place to get away from "the world" and receive it.

But that's not all. There is a need to get the Word of God into the culture. Most of us here in this country watch movies, listen to music, read books, etc. The art aspect of the healing and arts center is just that—a place to produce godly works to fill every part of our lives with His presence, in everything we do.

Today is also very special to our family because it is Elias' birthday. Today, the son of my dreams turns eight. Elias is going to be a great man of God when he grows up, and he already has a good start on it. Elias blesses me so much because he really loves God, he loves the Word of God, and he is learning to go to God himself when he has a need. Happy birthday, son! You are my delight!
